How does this pricing work?

Blackbox is a new kind of fulfillment platform designed and built from scratch to put creators and customers first. We make the process of shipping crowdfunding projects and fulfilling webstore orders easier than ever by dealing with all the annoying complexities that would otherwise distract you from working on your actual business (which probably isn't packing and shipping boxes).

Crowdfunding and webstore orders use the same base rates.

There's no difference between the base rates we charge for crowdfunding projects and the base rates we charge for webstore orders. Fees are simple and easy to calculate based on the weight/size of your products. We have fee tables and an online calculator you can use to anticipate fees.

We charge a 5% commission on webstore orders.

We've designed a cart and checkout setup that's simple to integrate and beautiful to use. Send your stuff to our warehouses, drop our buttons on your site, and we'll take care of the rest: payment processing, sales tax, customer service, and, of course, shipping.

If you use Blackbox to power your webstore, we charge a commission equal to 5% of the order's subtotal (on top of the base rate).

How much will an Order weigh?

Blackbox fees are based on the "Billable Weight" of the products in an order. The "Billable Weight" is a number that considers both the weight and size of a product. It's the larger of these two numbers: A) the actual weight of the product (as measured on a scale), or B) the "dimensional weight" of the product, which is (using inches): $L \times W \times H / 150$.

In practice, this means that products that are particularly large but lightweight will have a higher "Billable Weight" than their actual weight.

Packaging Weight

Once you know the “Billable Weight” of each product in your Order, you then add the weight of the packaging (boxes, padding). Blackbox provides the packaging for your orders (included in your fees) and uses these weights for your Orders:

- For a single item, we add 0.25 lbs
- For 2 items, we add 0.422 lbs
- For 3 or 4 items, we add 0.714 lbs
- For 5 to 8 items, we add 0.870 lbs
- For 9 to 16 items, we add 1.424 lbs
- Over that, we add 1.85 lbs

Domestic orders are cheaper.

Blackbox has warehouses in four countries: the United States, the United Kingdom, Canada, and Australia. Orders that deliver to the same country they shipped from are called domestic orders and are always our best rates. Orders that cross borders are called international orders and cost a bit more. International orders from the UK are usually cheaper than international orders from the US, and rates for international orders from both the US and UK are organized under one set of common-sense global zones.

We use each warehouse’s local currency.

Orders that ship from the US, no matter where they’re going, are always billed in USD. Likewise, orders that ship from the UK are always billed in GBP, orders from Canada are billed in CAD, and orders from Australia are billed in AUD. In this guide, we’ve put handy estimated USD conversions next to each non-USD price, though remember that currency conversions change every day!

You choose how much shipping your customers pay.

If you use Blackbox Checkout to power your webstore, you decide how much of your Blackbox fees to pass on to your customers as the shipping charges they pay during checkout. You could pass on 100% and reduce your Blackbox fees to nothing, or you could pass on 0% and give customers free shipping, or you could pick anything in between (like splitting your Blackbox fees 50/50 with your customers). You can set different percentages for different regions, and you can also create “free shipping thresholds,” where customers get free shipping only if they spend more than a certain amount. With this, you get fine-tuned control over your Blackbox costs.

We charge simple monthly storage fees.

Your first 100,000 cubic inches of inventory is $20; after that you’ll incur $1.00 per month for each 5,000 cu/in of additional stuff. Your first 10 SKUs are free; there’s a fee of $5 for each additional SKU beyond 10.

Fees for large orders (bulk, wholesale, freight orders).

If you’re shipping a large order (e.g., a wholesale order of 10 cases to a retail store), or arranging for a carrier to pick up a big order, the fee structure is different from the fees for orders to consumers. Please see our “Fees for Large Orders” section for more details.

Domestic Orders

Domestic orders are orders that ship from and deliver to the same country. Blackbox currently offers domestic service within the US, UK, Canada, and Australia. To get these rates, you'll need to keep inventory in Blackbox warehouses in each country.

These rates are inclusive of shipping, handling, packaging, and customer service, and include a 100% delivery guarantee. If we ship a package and it doesn't arrive, we'll refund your Blackbox fees for the order and ship any necessary replacements for free.

Webstore orders from Blackbox Checkout widgets are charged an additional 5% commission fee. If someone buys two copies of a $20 item, we'll charge a $2 commission (5% * $40). This covers costs related to payment processing, inventory management, and customer service.

International Orders

International orders are orders that deliver to a different country than they shipped from. Blackbox ships almost everywhere in the world. In general, rates are lower from the UK than from the US, but to get those rates, you'll need to ship your products to our UK warehouse.

These rates are inclusive of shipping, handling, packaging, and customer service, and include a 100% delivery guarantee. If we ship a package and it doesn't arrive, we'll refund your Blackbox fees for the order and ship any necessary replacements for free.

Webstore orders from Blackbox Checkout widgets are charged an additional 5% commission fee. If someone buys two copies of a $20 item, we'll charge a $2 commission (5% * $40). This covers costs related to payment processing, inventory management, and customer service.

Packaging & Handling

If your fulfillment requires any unusual packaging or handling (e.g., poster tubes, special packing for fragile items) please get in touch with your Account rep to discuss availability and pricing.

Customer Shipping Prices

As a seller on Blackbox, you have the option to reduce the fees you pay us by passing a percentage of those fees on to your customers as the shipping charges they pay during checkout. You can set different percentages for different regions, and you can also set “free-shipping thresholds” where customers don’t pay for shipping if they spend above a certain amount. Here are some webstore order examples.

You pay all your Blackbox fees.

Customers pay your fees for you.
